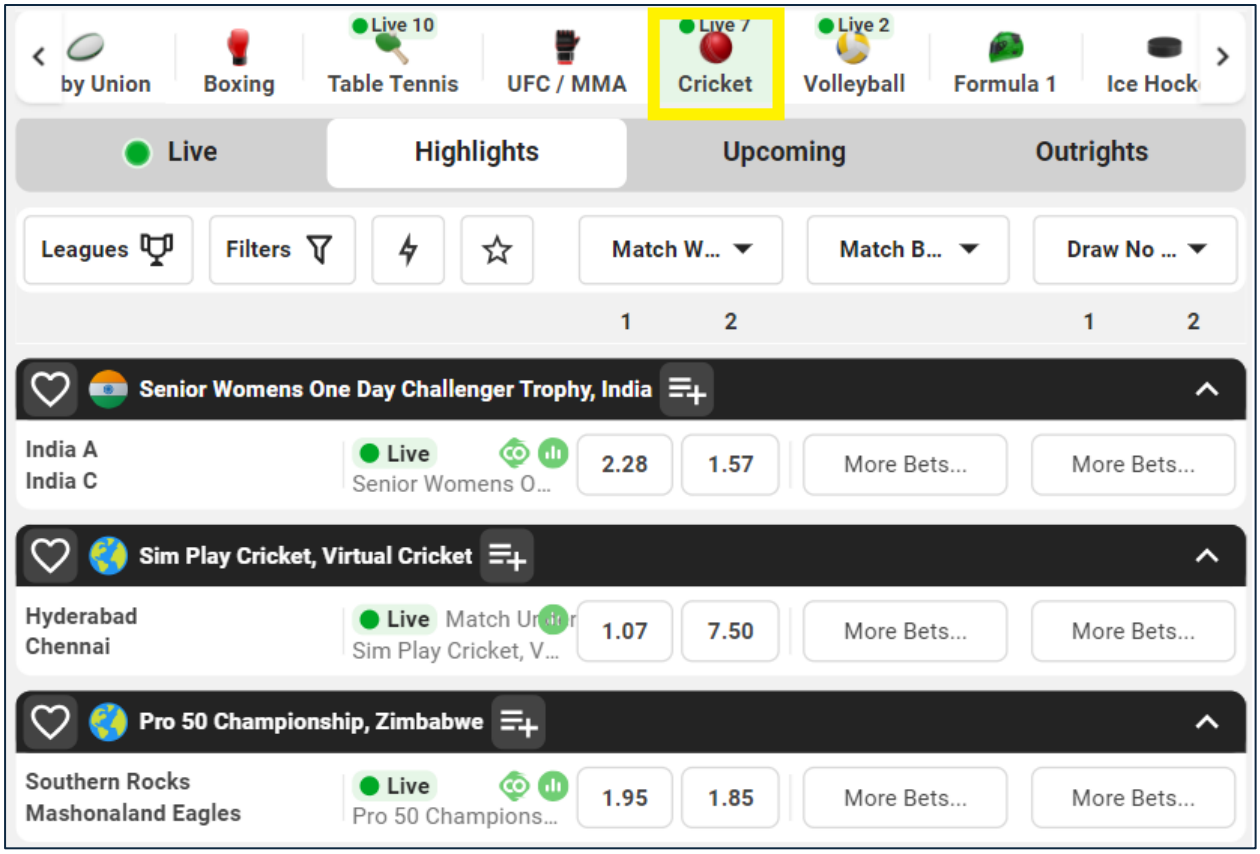
3.5.1.2 Cricket

Cricket is a team sport where two teams of 11 players compete. One team bats, trying to score runs by hitting the ball and running between wickets or hitting boundaries, while the other team bowls and fields to get the batsmen out. Cricket is played in different formats, including Test matches (lasting up to five days), One Day Internationals (50 overs), and T20 (20 overs). In Betway, users can place bets on various aspects of a cricket match, such as the overall match winner, total runs scored, top batsman, or bowler.



Cricket Markets

Some of the popular cricket betting markets in Betway are:

i. Match Winner: In this market, users can place bets on the team that will win the match.

ii. First Ball Dot or Not?: The 1st Ball Dot or Not market allows the user to predict the outcome of the very first ball of a match or an over. If the user bets on Dot, the first ball must result in no runs. For example, if the first ball of a T20 match is bowled and the batsman plays it defensively for no run, a bet on Dot wins. If the batsman scores a single, hits a boundary, or if it's a wide or no-ball, a bet on Not Dot wins.

iii. Draw No Bet: Users bet on a team to win, and if the match ends in a draw, their stake is refunded.

iv. Top 4 Finish: Users bet on a team to finish in the top four positions of a league or tournament.

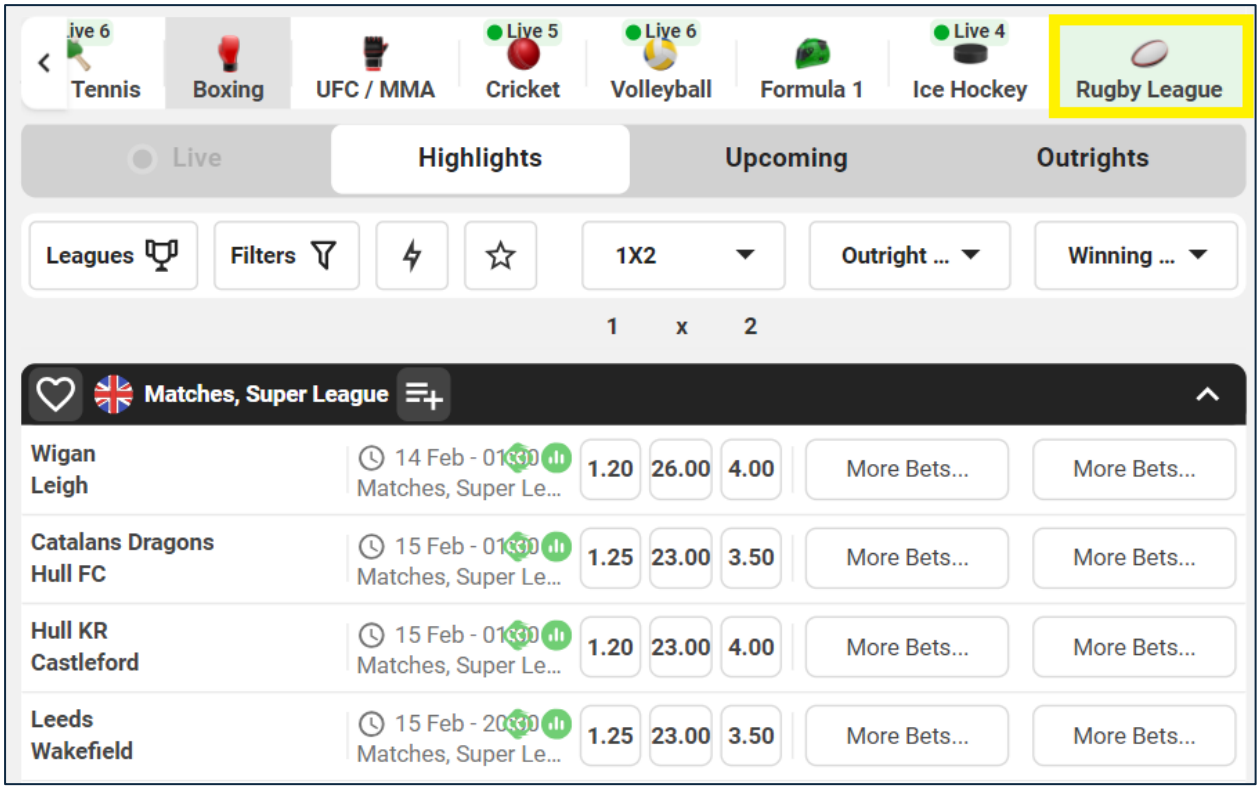
v. Match Betting: Users bet on the outcome of a match, predicting which team will win or if the match will end in a draw.

For more information about markets, click on the 'info' icon in front of any market.

For test cases related to Cricket, please refer to this sheet:
Cricket_Testcases.xlsx

3.5.1.3 Rugby League

Rugby League refers to betting on matches and events related to Rugby League, a sport played by teams of 13 players. The game involves scoring through tries, goals, and drop goals. In the Rugby League, teams aim to outscore each other by carrying the ball over the opponent's try line and kicking goals.



Rugby League Markets

Popular rugby betting markets include:

i. 1X2: This market in Rugby is a simple bet on the outcome of a match.
   - 1 means the home team will win
   - X means the match will end in a draw
   - 2 means the away team will win

   For example, if the user bets on 1 for a match between Sydney Roosters (home) and Melbourne Storm (away), and the Sydney Roosters win, their bet is successful. If the match ends in a draw or Melbourne Storm wins, their bet loses.

ii. Winning Margin: The Winning Margin market in Rugby allows the user to bet on the exact point difference by which a team will win the match. They predict how many points the winning team will lead by at the end of the game. For example, in a match between England and New Zealand, if users bet on England to win by 12-16 points, England must win the match with a score difference between 12 and 16 points for their bet to win. If the point difference is outside that range, the bet will lose.

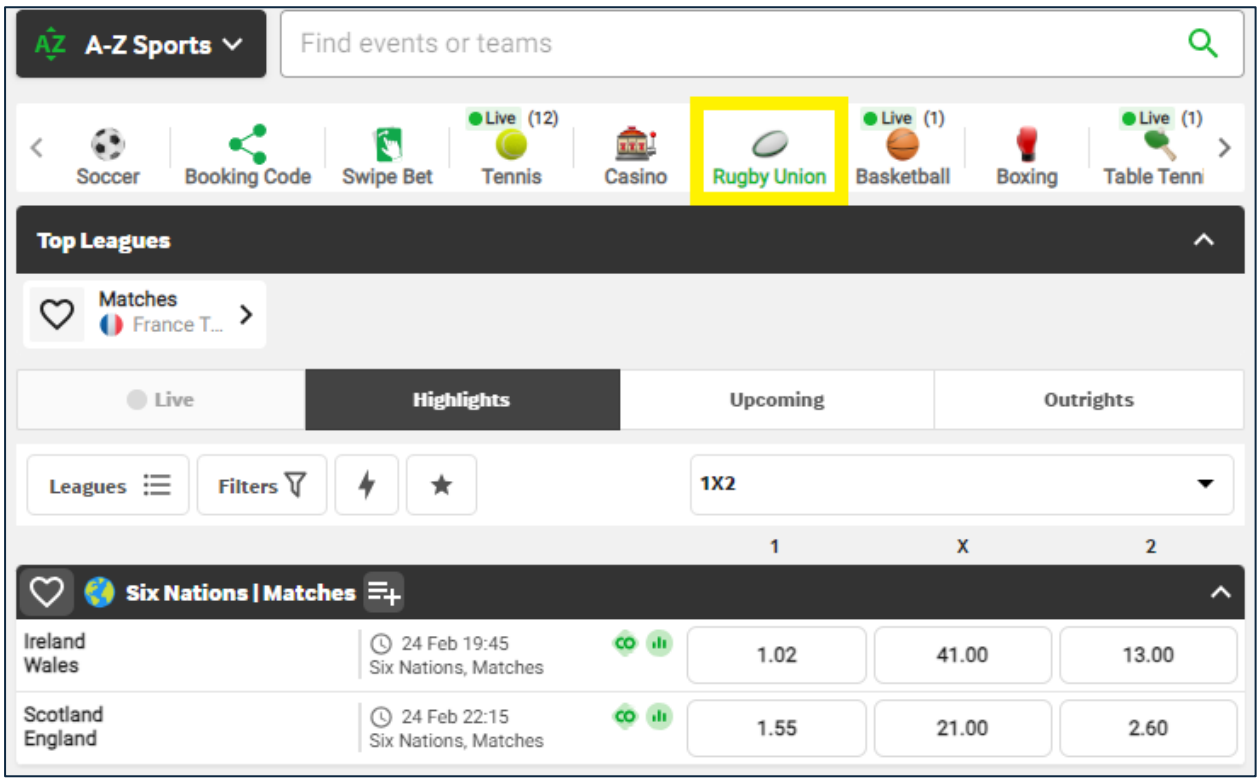
Winning Margin
Hull KR By 15+	1.85	Hull KR By 8-14	3.50
Hull KR By 1-7	4.75	Castleford By 1-7	7.50
Castleford By 8-14	11.00	Castleford By 15+	19.00
Draw	23.00

vi. Outright Winner: It is a bet on the team that will win the tournament or league.

vii. Handicap: This gives one team a virtual point advantage or disadvantage to level the playing field for betting purposes.

3.5.1.4 Rugby Union

Rugby Union refers to a type of rugby where teams of 15 players compete, and the game is played with different rules compared to Rugby League, which involves 13 players per team. Key differences include the number of players, the scoring system, and the rules around tackles, scrums, and set pieces. Rugby Union allows more set pieces like lineouts and rucks, while Rugby League is known for faster play with fewer stoppages and a limited number of tackles.

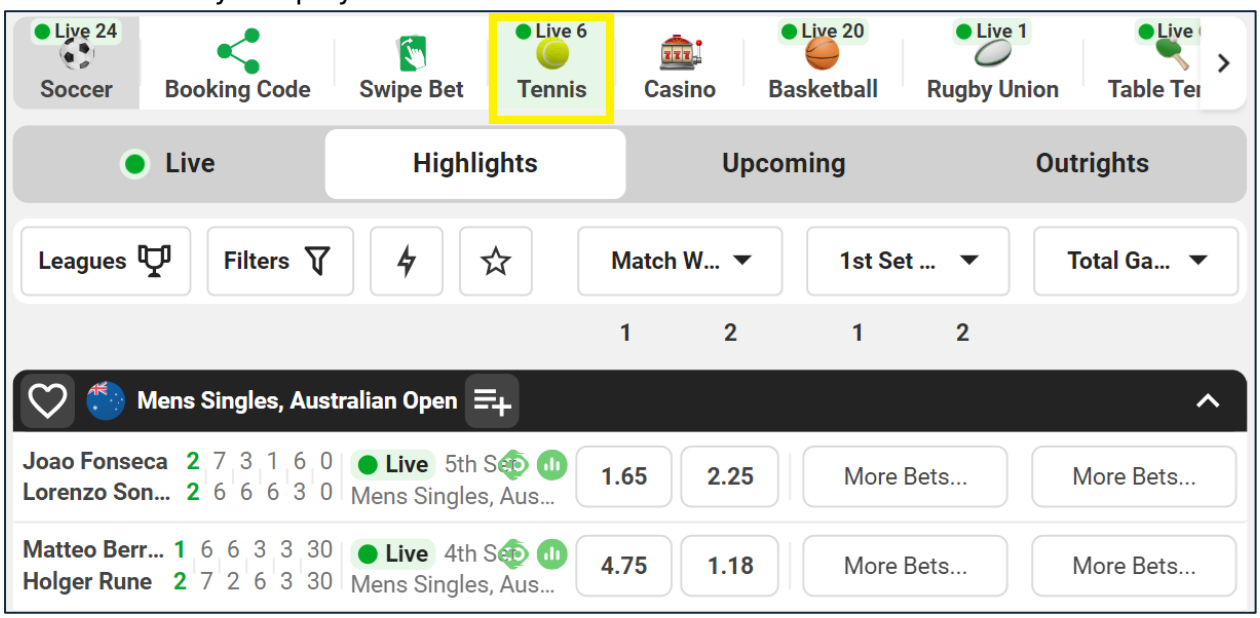


The markets for the Rugby Union are the same as those for the Rugby League.

For test cases related to Rugby Union, please refer to this sheet:
[Rugby_Union_Testcases.xlsx]

3.5.1.5 Tennis

Tennis is a sport played between two players (singles) or two teams of two players (doubles), where the objective is to hit the ball over the net and into the opponent's court, scoring points when they fail to return it. Matches are divided into sets, and players aim to win games within each set by reaching four points with a two-point lead. Tennis is played on various surfaces like grass, clay, or hard courts, which can influence the style of play.



Tennis Markets

The popular tennis markets are:

i. Set 1 Tie Break: This market allows the user to bet on whether there will be a tie-break in the first set of the match. In tennis, a tie break occurs if the score in a set reaches 6-6, and the players must play a tiebreaker to decide the winner. For example, if the user bets on Yes for the Set 1 Tie Break market, and the first set ends with a 6-6 score, a tie-break will be played, and their bet will win. If the first set ends with any other score (e.g., 6-4, 6-3), their bet will lose, as no tie-break occurs. This market specifically focuses on whether or not a tie-break happens in the first set of the match.

ii. Match Winner: The Match Winner market in tennis is a bet on which player or team will win the entire match. Users need to predict the overall winner, regardless of how many sets it takes to finish the match. For example, in a match between Roger Federer and Rafael Nadal, users can place a bet on either player to win the match. If they bet on Federer and he wins the match, their bet is successful, no matter whether it's in straight sets (e.g., 6-4, 6-3) or after a longer battle (e.g., 3-6, 6-4, 7-5). The bet is settled based on the overall winner of the match.

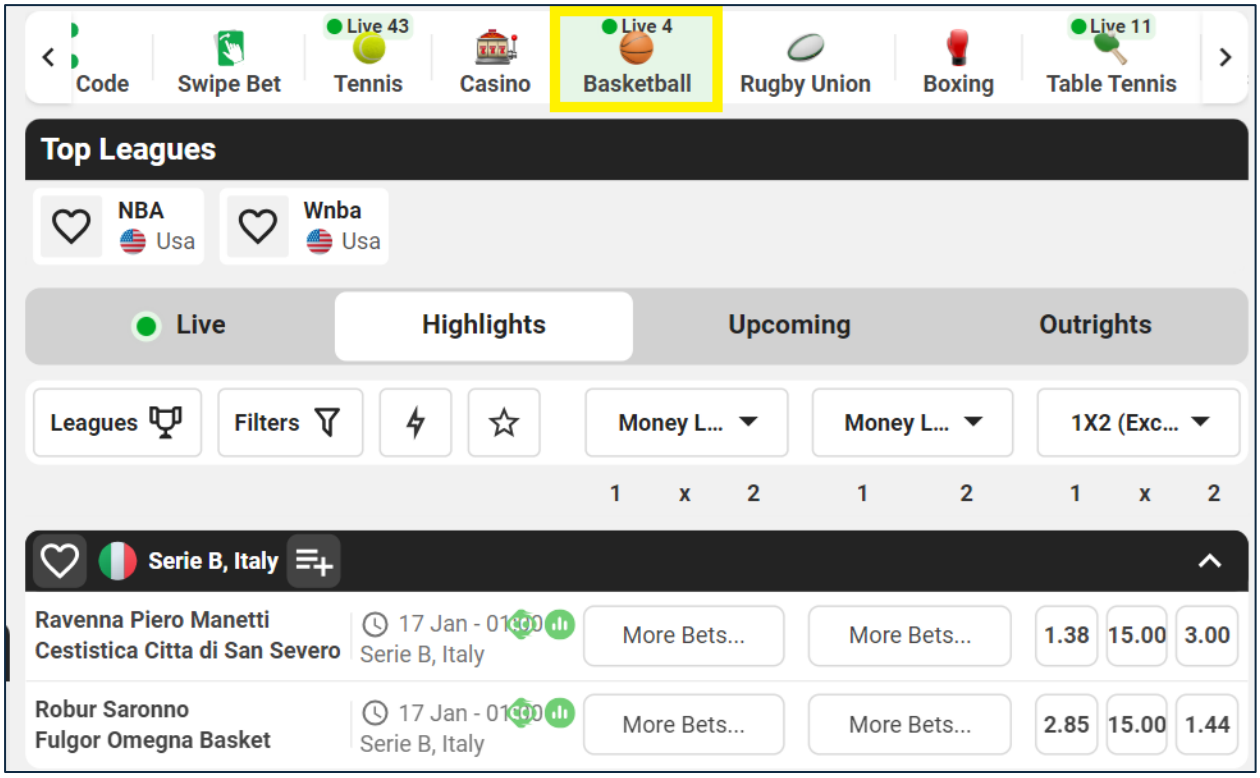
iii. Total Games- Odd/Even: Odd/Even market in tennis allows the user to bet on whether the total number of games played in a match will be an odd or even number. For example, if users bet on Odd and the match ends with 23 games (e.g., 6-4, 6-3), their bet will win because 23 is an odd number. If the match ends with 24 games (e.g., 6-4, 6-4), their bet will lose because 24 is an even number.

iv. Not to Win a Set: This means betting on a player not winning any set in the match.

v. To Win a Set: It means betting on a player winning at least one set during the match.

3.5.1.6 Basketball

Basketball is a team sport played between two teams of five players each, where the objective is to score points by shooting the ball through the opponent's hoop. The game is played in four quarters, and the team with the most points at the end wins. Players can score by making field goals (2 or 3 points) or free throws (1 point).



Basketball Markets

Here are some of the popular basketball betting markets provided by Betway:

i. Match Winner (Incl. OT): This market allows users to bet on which team will win the match, including any potential overtime (OT). If the game is tied at the end of regulation time, overtime is played to determine the winner. For example, if users bet on Team A to win (including OT) and the game goes into overtime, users' bet will still win if Team A wins the game, even if it happens during the overtime period. If Team A loses, their bet loses, regardless of whether the game goes into regular time or overtime.

ii. Total Points (Incl. OT): This market allows the user to bet on the total number of points scored by both teams in the game, including any points scored during overtime (OT). For example, if users bet on the total points being over 210 (including OT) and the match ends with a combined score of 215 points, their bet wins, even if some of those points were scored in overtime. If the total points scored by both teams is 210 or less, their bet loses.

iii. Money Line: This market is a bet on which team will win the game

iv. Money Line -3 Way (Excl. OT): This market excludes overtime and allows users to bet on the winner in regulation time, with an option for a draw.

For test cases related to Basketball, please refer to this sheet:
[Basketball_Testcases.xlsx]

3.5.1.7 Table Tennis

Table tennis is a sport played between two players (singles) or two teams of two players (doubles), where the objective is to score points by hitting the ball over a net and into the opponent's side of the table. Players use paddles to strike the ball, which must bounce once on each side of the table. A game is typically played to 11 points, and the first player or team to win 3, 5, or 7 sets (depending on the format) wins the match.

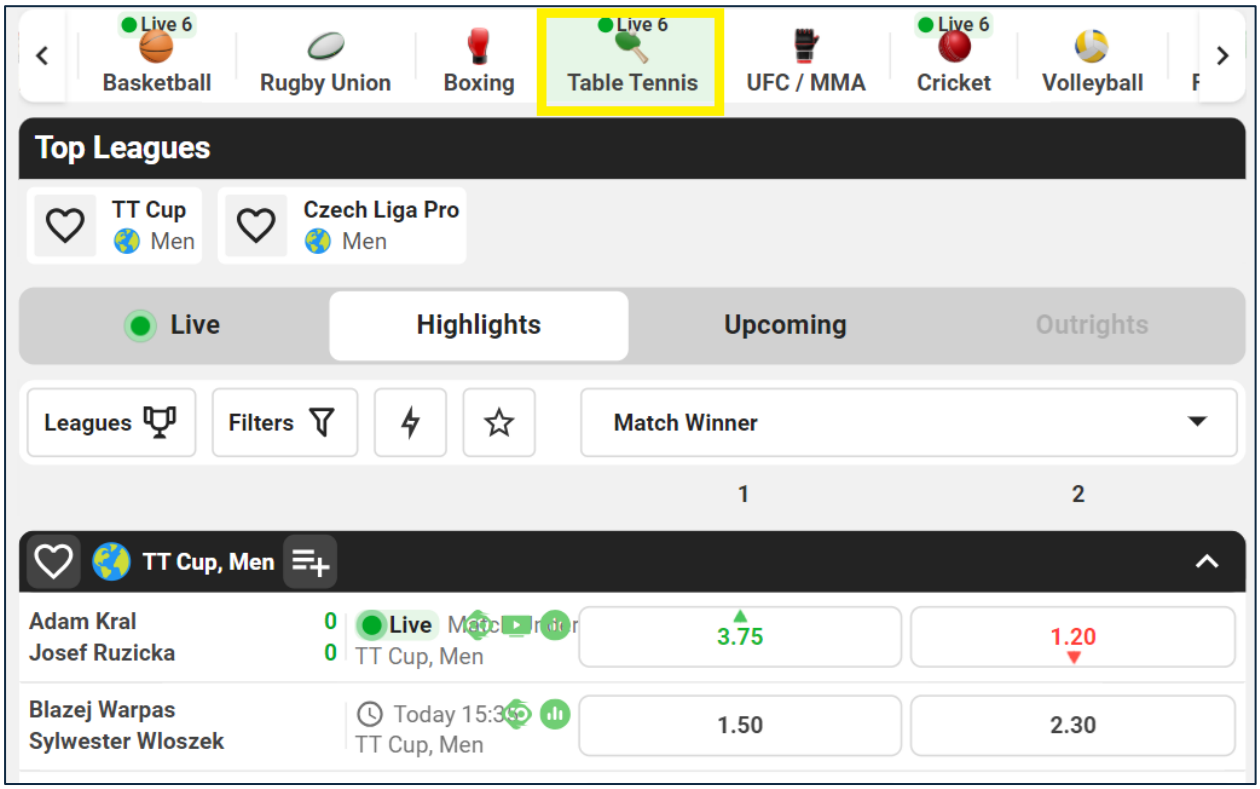

Table Tennis Markets

Some of the common markets are:

i. Match Winner: This market allows users to bet on which player or team will win the entire match. They predict the overall winner, regardless of the number of sets played. For example, if users bet on Player A to win, and Player A wins the match, their bet is successful. If Player A loses, their bet loses, regardless of whether it's a 3-set win or a longer match.

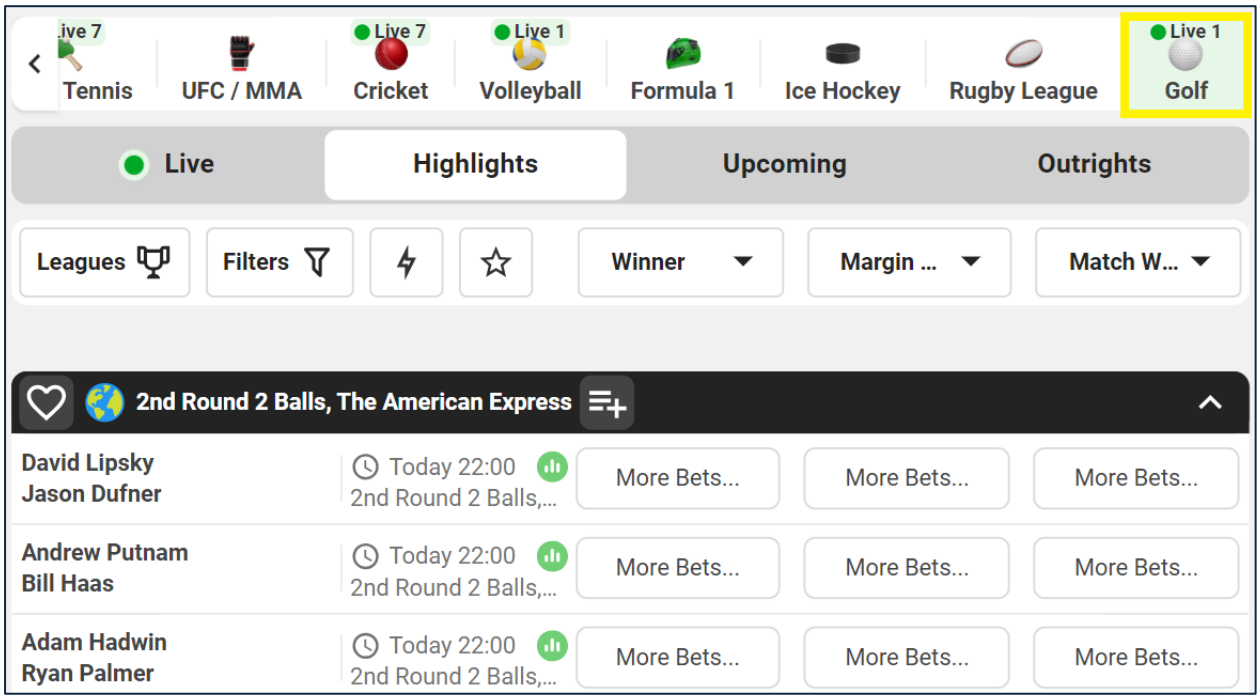
ii. First Game Winner: This market allows the user to bet on which player or team will win the first game of the match. For example, if users bet on Player A to win the first game, and Player A wins the first game, their bet is successful. If Player B wins the first game, their bet loses. This market focuses solely on the outcome of the first game, not the entire match.

iii. Game 1-Total Points: This market allows the user to bet on the total number of points scored in the first game of the match. For example, if users bet on over 18.5 points and the first game ends with 22 points scored (combined by both players), their bet will win. If the total points in the first game are 18.5 or fewer, their bet will lose.

For test cases related to Table Tennis, please refer to this sheet:
[Table_Tennis_Testcases.xlsx]

3.5.1.8 Golf

Golf is an individual or team sport where players use clubs to hit a ball into a series of holes on a course in as few strokes as possible. A standard course consists of 18 holes, and the player with the lowest total strokes at the end of the round wins. The game is played in various formats, including stroke play (total strokes determine the winner) and match play (holes won determine the winner).



Golf Markets

Betway Golf offers a wide range of markets for golf betting, some of which include:

i. Winner: The Winner Market in golf allows the user to bet on which player will win an entire tournament. For example, in a tournament like the Masters, users can place a bet on Rory McIlroy to win. If McIlroy finishes the tournament with the lowest total score and is declared the winner, users' bet is successful. If another player wins, their bet loses.

ii. Playoff: This market in Golf allows the user to bet on whether a tournament will end with a playoff to decide the winner. For example, users can place a bet on "Yes" for a playoff. If two or more players are tied at the top after the final round and a playoff occurs, their bet wins. If the tournament ends without a playoff and the winner is determined during regular play, their bet loses.

iii. Top Asian: This market allows the user to bet on which Asian player will perform the best in a tournament. This market includes a predefined group of Asian players, and users need to predict who will achieve the highest ranking among them by the end of the tournament. For example, in a tournament featuring Hideki Matsuyama, Sungjae Im, and Si Woo Kim, if users bet on Hideki Matsuyama and he finishes with the best score among the three, the bet wins, regardless of his overall position in the tournament.

iv. Canadian Top: Bet on which Canadian player will perform best in a tournament.

v. Continental Top: Bet on which European player (excluding UK/Ireland) will finish highest in the tournament.

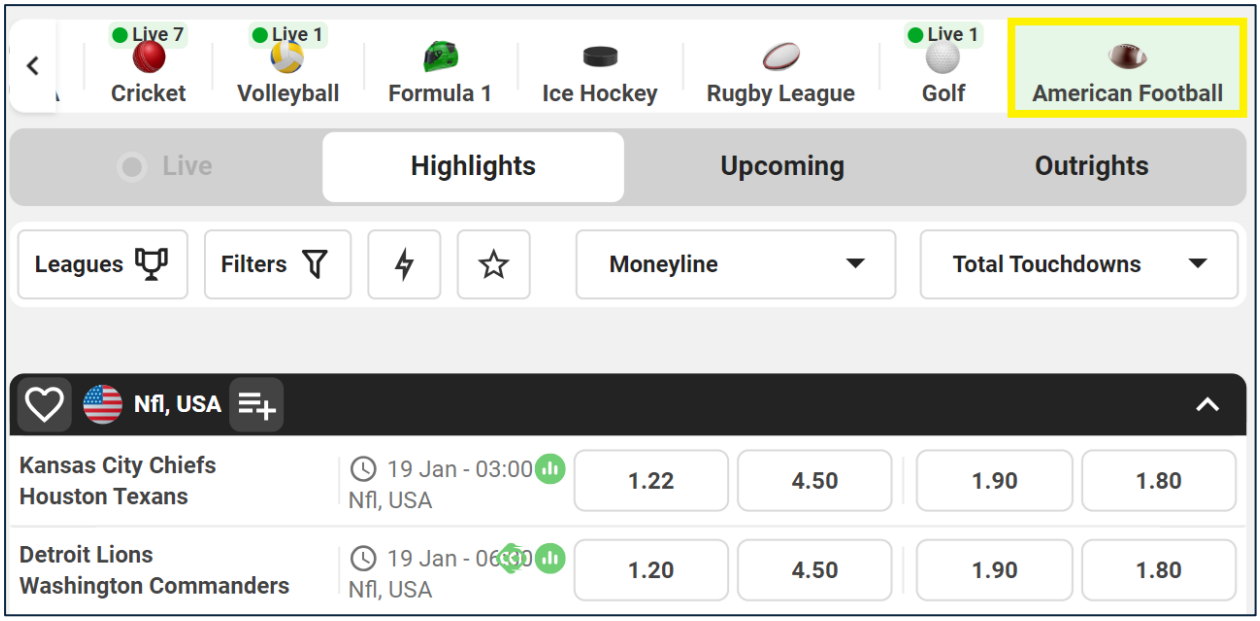
vi. 2nd Round 3 Balls: Bet on which of the three grouped players will have the lowest score in the second round.

vii. Ryder Cup: Bet on various outcomes during the Ryder Cup, including the winning team, player performances, or match results.

viii. 2nd Round 2 Balls: Bet on which of the two grouped players will have the lowest score in the second round.

3.5.1.9 Football/American Football

American Football is a team sport where two teams compete to score points by advancing the ball into the opponent's end zone through running or passing plays. The game is divided into four quarters, and the team with the most points at the end wins. Key events like touchdowns, field goals, and defensive plays determine the score.



Football/American Football Markets

Football markets refer to the various types of bets that can be placed on football matches. These markets cover a wide range of outcomes and events that can occur during a football match, such as:

i. Moneyline: The Moneyline Market in American Football is a simple bet on which team will win the game, including overtime. For example, if the Philadelphia Eagles are playing the Dallas Cowboys, users can bet on either team to win. If the team users bet on wins the game, their bet is successful, regardless of the margin of victory.

ii. Total Touchdown: The Total Touchdowns Market in American Football lets users bet on the total number of touchdowns scored by both teams in a game. For example, if the bookmaker sets the line at 5.5 touchdowns, the user can bet on Over 5.5 (more than 5 touchdowns) or Under 5.5 (5 or fewer touchdowns). If 6 or more touchdowns are scored, an Over bet wins; if 5 or fewer are scored, an Under-bet wins.

iii. Total Points: Bet on the total combined points scored by both teams in a game, with options for over or under a set number. For example, if the total points line is set at 41.5

and the final score is 28-24 (total 52 points), a bet on "Over 41.5" wins, while a bet on "Under 41.5 loses.

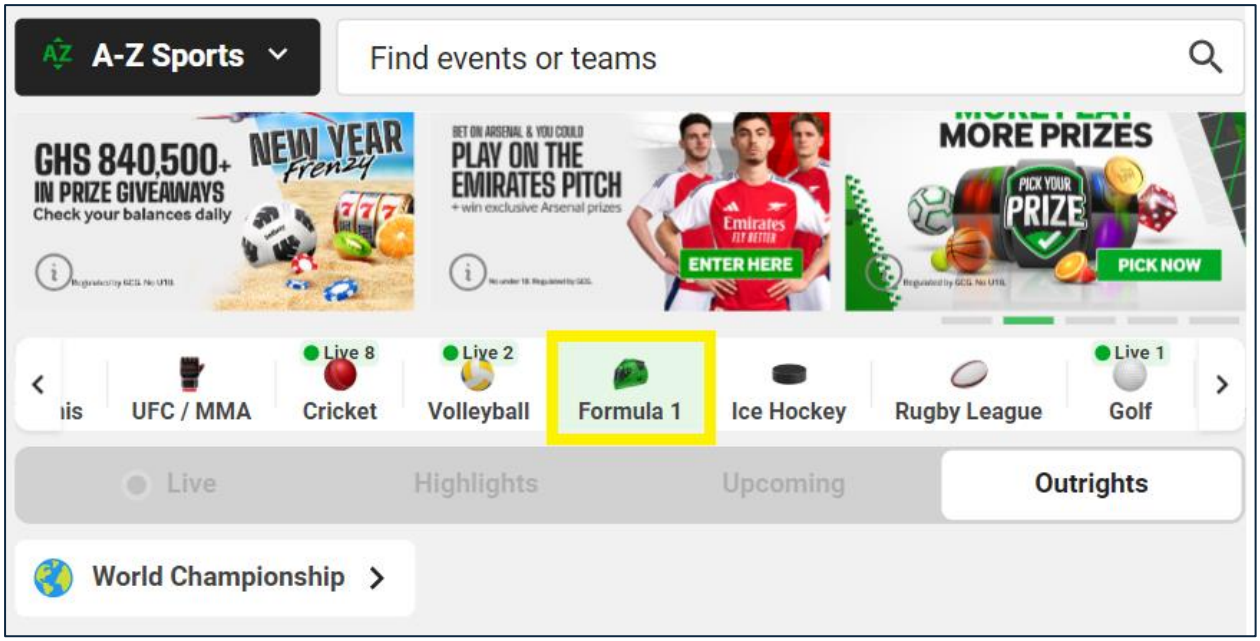
Total Points
Over (38.5)	1.40	Under (38.5)	2.75
Over (39.5)	1.44	Under (39.5)	2.65
Over (40.5)	1.44	Under (40.5)	2.65
Over (41.5)	1.55	Under (41.5)	2.35

iv. Halftime/Fulltime: Bet on the result of both the halftime and full-time scores, predicting which team will be leading at halftime and who will win the game.

v. 1st Quarter – Moneyline: Bet on which team will win the first quarter of the game.

3.5.1.10 Formula 1

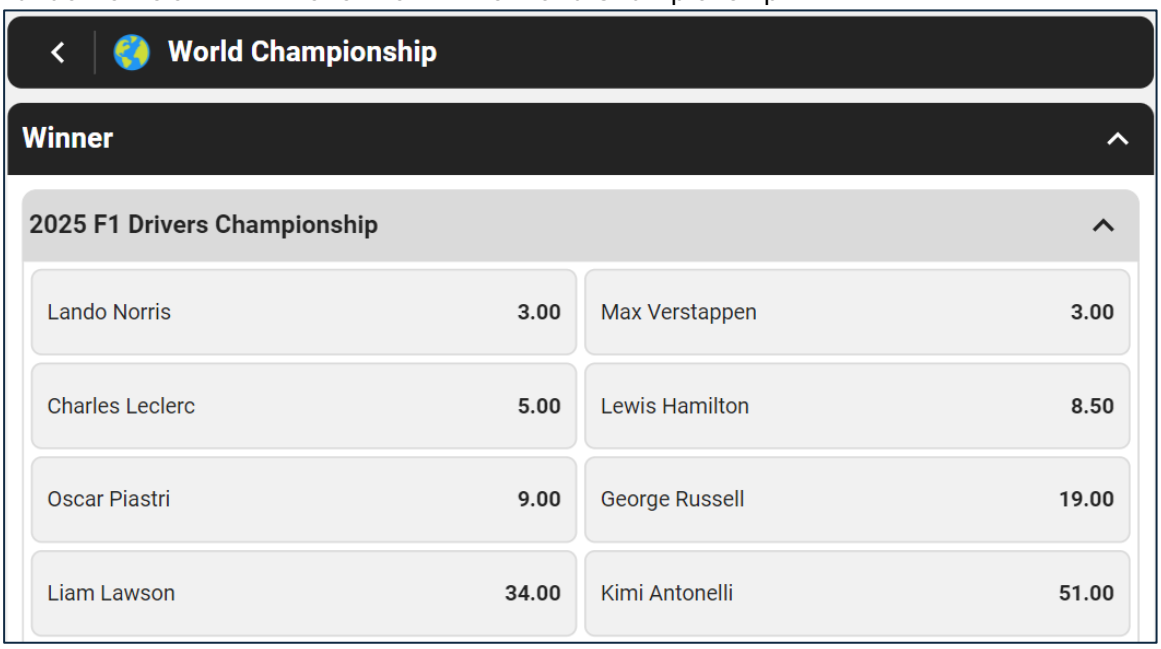
Formula 1 (F1) is a premier international motorsport where drivers compete in high-speed races on tracks around the world. The goal is to complete a set number of laps before any other driver, and the driver with the fastest time wins the race. F1 is known for its advanced technology, team strategies, and individual driver skills.



Formula 1 Markets

Here are some of the popular markets offered by Betway Formula 1:

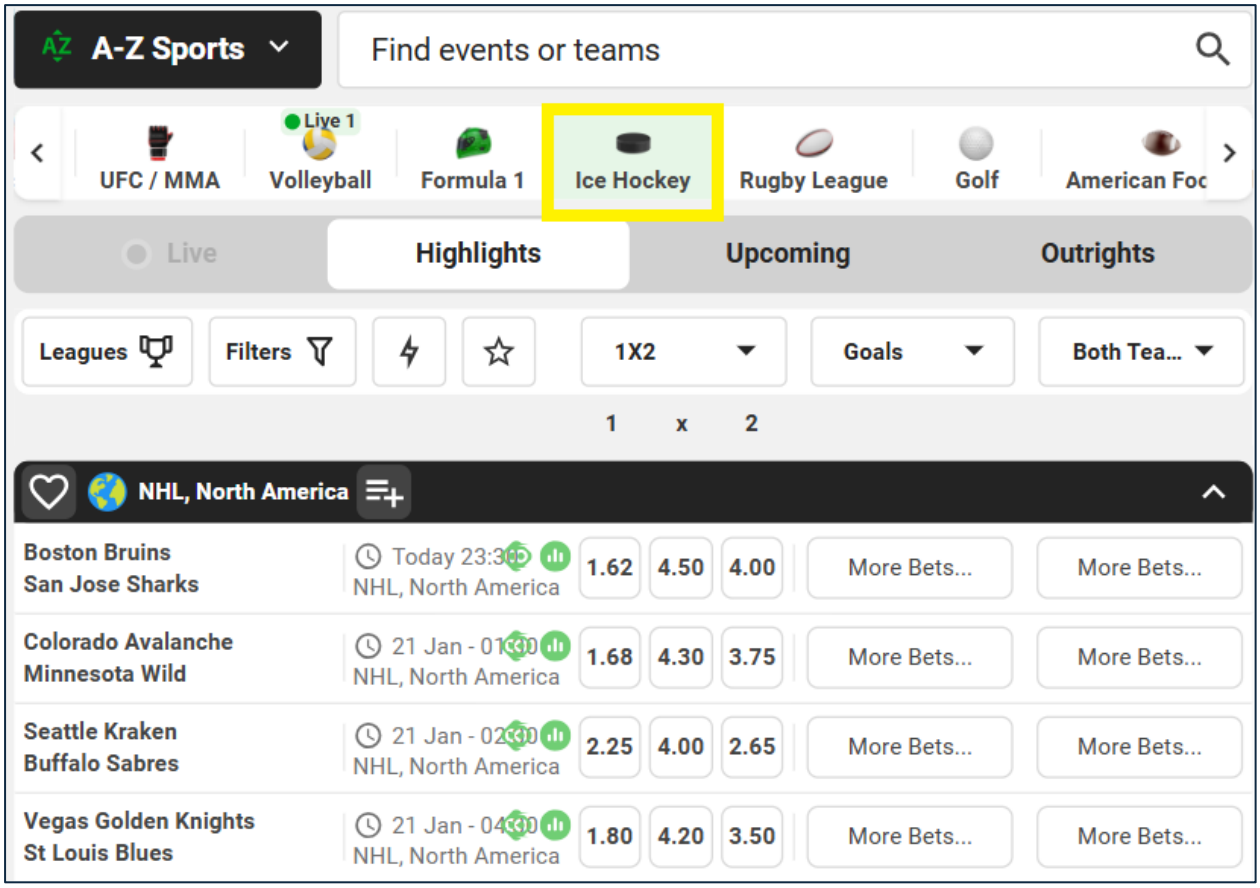
i. Winner: Betting on which driver will win the tournament. Here, the user can bet on Lando Norris or Kimi Antonelli to win the World Championship.



For test cases related to Formula 1, please refer to this sheet:
[Formula1_Testcases.xlsx]

3.5.1.11 Ice Hockey

Ice Hockey is a fast-paced team sport played on an ice rink, where two teams compete to score goals by shooting a puck into the opponent's net using sticks. Each game is divided into three periods, and the team with the most goals wins. If the game is tied, it may go to overtime or a shootout to determine the winner.



Ice Hockey Markets

Here are some of the popular Ice Hockey markets:

i. 1X2: The 1X2 Market in ice hockey is a bet on the result at the end of regulation time (60 minutes), excluding overtime and shootouts.
   - 1: Bet on the home team to win.
   - X: Bet on the game ending in a draw.
   - 2: Bet on the away team to win.

   For example, if Farjestad is playing Prague, users can bet on the Farjestad (1), a draw (X), or Prague (2). If their prediction is correct within regulation time, their bet wins.

ii. Both Teams to Score: This market in ice hockey is a bet on whether both teams will score at least one goal during the game, including overtime but excluding shootouts. For example, if Farjestad is playing Prague, and the final score is 3-2, both teams have scored, so the bet wins. If either team fails to score, the bet loses.

iii. Double Chance: The Double Chance Market in ice hockey allows the user to bet on two out of three possible outcomes in regulation time:

- 1X: The home team wins or the game ends in a draw.
- X2: The game ends in a draw or the away team wins.
- 12: Either the home or away team wins (no draw).

For example, if users bet 1X on a match between Farjestad and Prague, they win if the Farjestad wins or the game ends in a draw.

iv. Draw No Bet: Bet on a team to win, with your stake refunded if the game ends in a draw.

v. Total Goals: Bet on the total number of goals scored in the game, over or under a specific line.

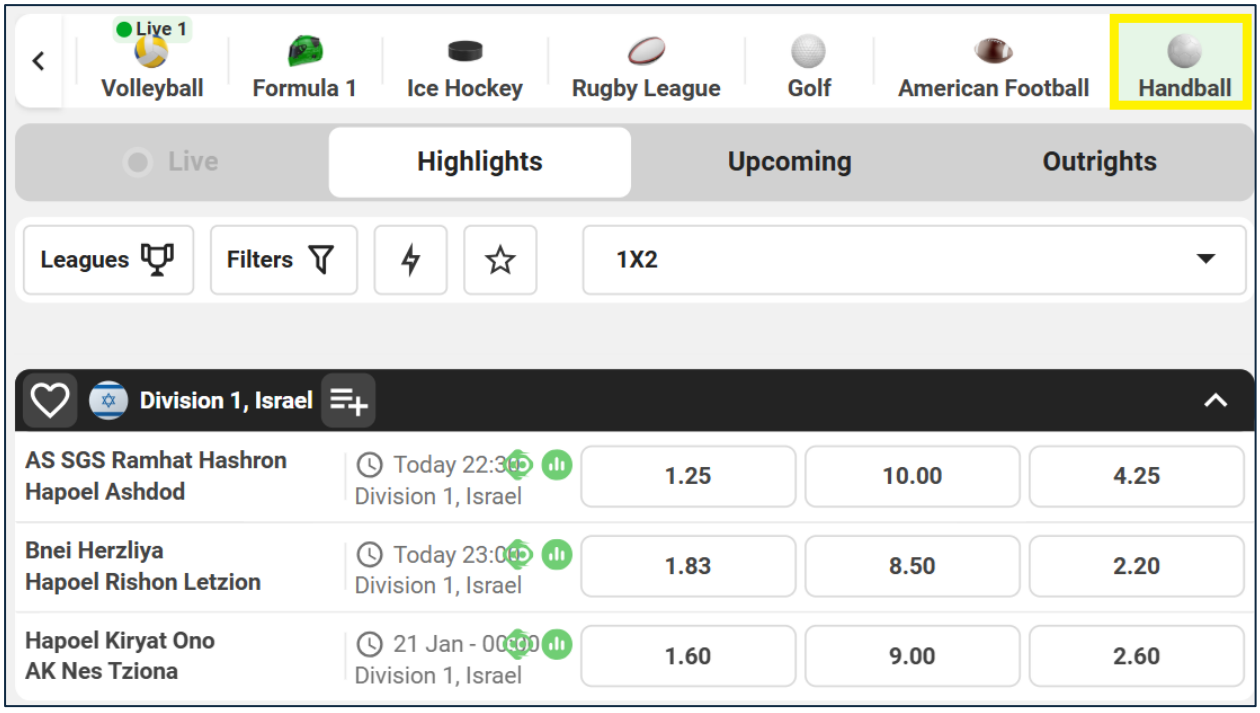
vi. Highest Scoring Period: Bet on which period will have the most goals scored.

vii. Handicap: Bet on a team to win with a goal advantage or disadvantage applied by the bookmaker.

For test cases related to Ice Hockey, please refer to this sheet:
IceHockey_Testcases.xlsx

3.5.1.12 Handball

Handball is a fast-paced team sport where two teams of seven players compete to score goals by throwing a ball into the opponent's net. The game is played on a rectangular court with a goal at each end, divided into two halves of 30 minutes each. The team with the most goals at the end of the match wins.



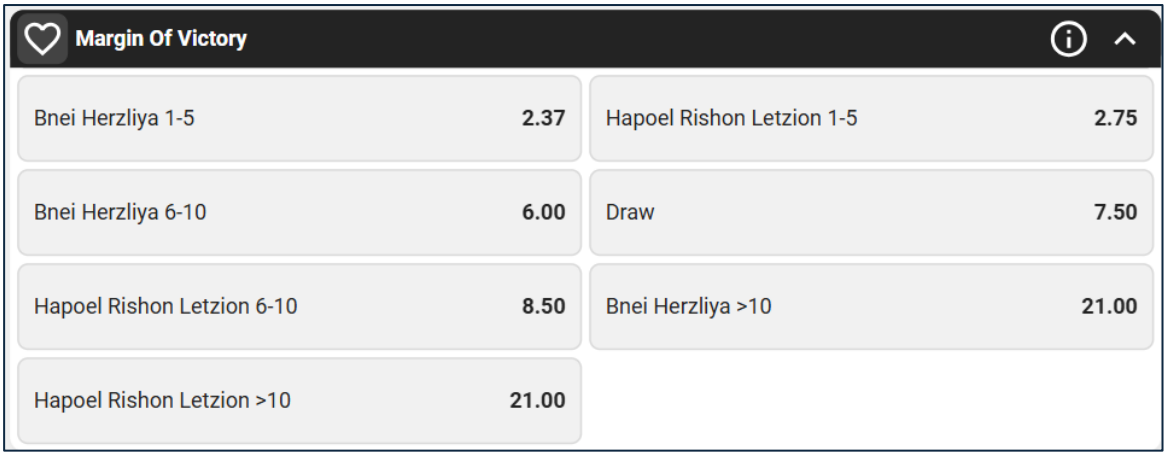
Handball Markets

Betway Handball offers a variety of betting markets for users to choose from, including:

i. 1x2: The 1X2 Market in handball allows users to bet on the result of the match at the end of regular time (60 minutes):
   - 1: Bet on the home team to win.
   - X: Bet on the match ending in a draw.
   - 2: Bet on the away team to win.

   For example, if Austria is playing North Macedonia, users can bet on 1 for Austria win, X for a draw, or 2 for Macedonia win. If their prediction matches the result at the end of regular time, their bet wins.

ii. Margin of Victory: This market in handball allows users to bet on the exact range by which a team will win the match. For example, if Bnei is playing Herzliya, users can bet on Bnei to win by 1-5 goals, 4-6 goals, or more. If PSG wins 32-28, a bet on a 4-6 goal margin wins.



Margin Of Victory
Bnei Herzliya 1-5	2.37	Hapoel Rishon Letzion 1-5	2.75
Bnei Herzliya 6-10	6.00	Draw	7.50
Hapoel Rishon Letzion 6-10	8.50	Bnei Herzliya >10	21.00
Hapoel Rishon Letzion >10	21.00

iii. Total- Odd/Even Goals: This is a bet on whether the total number of goals scored in the match will be an odd or even number. For example, if the final score is 30-28 (total 58), a bet on Even wins. If the score is 30-29 (total 59), a bet on Odd wins.

Total - Odd/Even Goals
Odd	1.83	Even	1.90

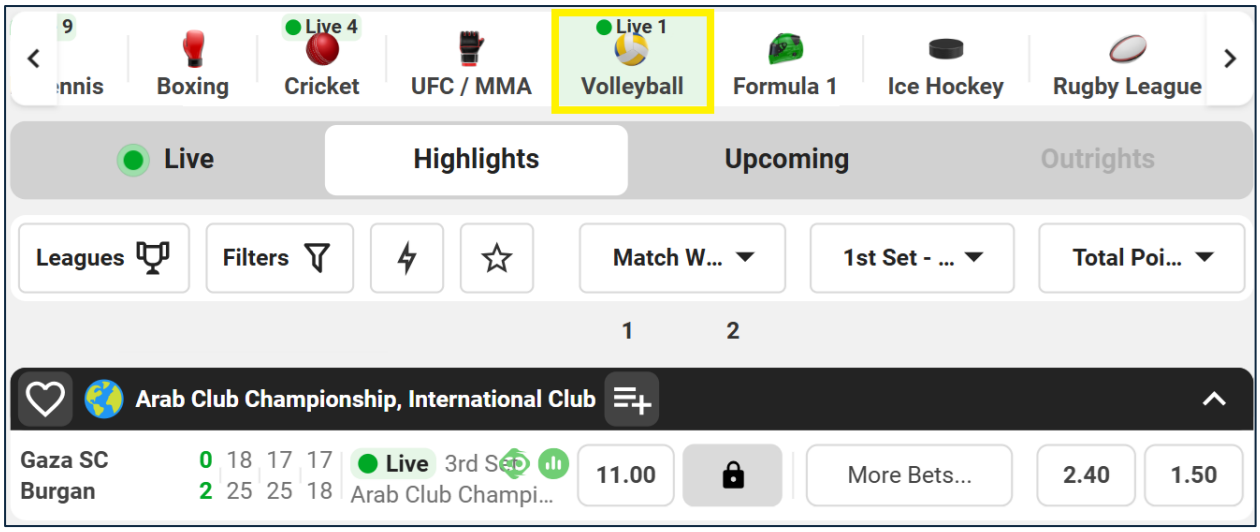
iv. Total Goals: Bet on whether the total number of goals scored in the match will be over or under a set line.

v. Handicap: Bet on a team to win with a goal advantage or disadvantage applied to level the odds.

For test cases related to Handball, please refer to this sheet:
HandBall_Testcases.xlsx

3.5.1.13 Volleyball

Betway Volleyball is a betting platform offered by Betway Esports that allows users to place bets on various volleyball matches and tournaments. Volleyball is a team sport that involves hitting a ball over a net and into the opposing team's court.



Volleyball Markets

Betway Volleyball offers a variety of betting markets for users to choose from, including:

i. Match Winner: This market in volleyball allows users to bet on which team will win the match, with the option to bet on the home team, the away team, or a draw (if applicable in certain formats). For example, if Bankasi is playing Sigorta, users can bet on Bankasi to win or Sigorta to win.

ii. First Set Winner: This market allows users to bet on which team will win the first set of the match. For example, if Bankasi is playing Sigorta, users can bet on Bankasi to win the first set or Sigorta to win it. The bet is decided based on the outcome of the first set, regardless of the final match result.

iii. Handicap Sets: This market allows users to bet on a team to win with a set advantage or disadvantage applied. For example, if Bankasi is playing Sigorta, and users bet on Bankasi -1.5 (Bankasi with a 1.5-set disadvantage), Bankasi must win by at least 2 sets for the bet to win. Conversely, if users bet on Sigorta +1.5 (Sigorta with a 1.5-set advantage), Sigorta can win the match or lose by 1 set for the bet to win.

iv. First Set - Odd/Even: Bet on whether the total number of points scored in the first set will be an odd or even number.

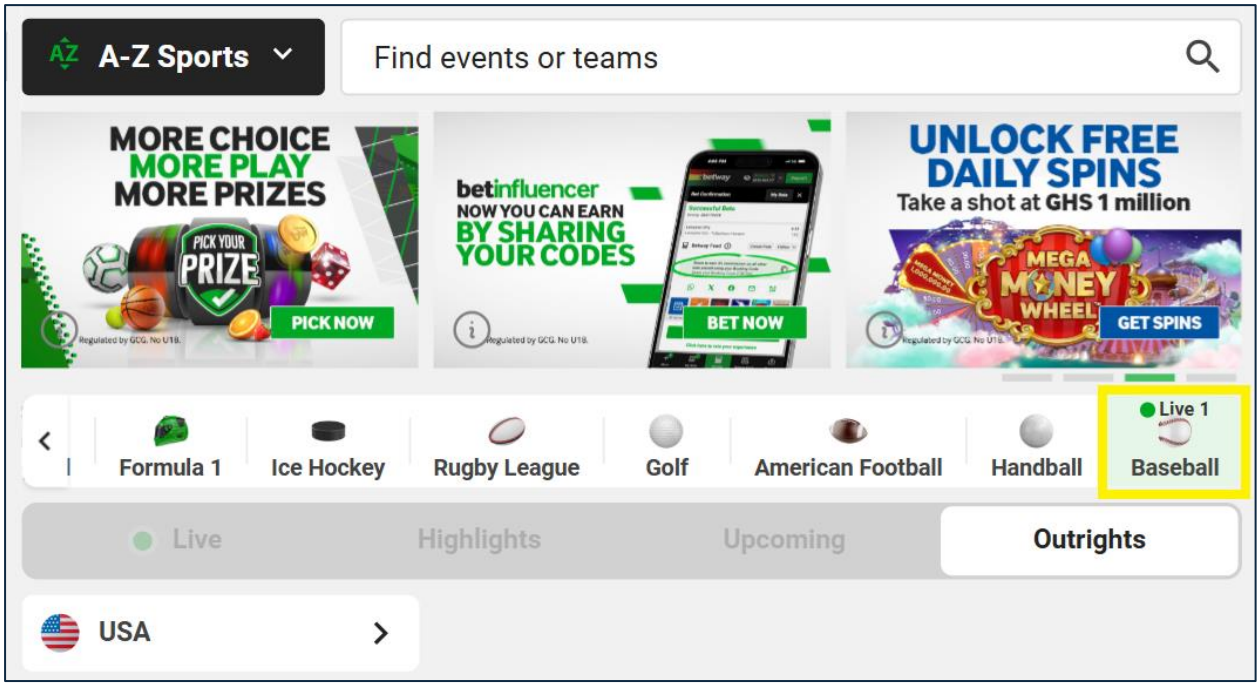
v. Correct Score - Best of Five: Bet on the exact score of the match, based on a best-of-five set format.

vi. Total Points: Bet on whether the total number of points scored in the match will be over or under a set line.

For test cases related to Volleyball, please refer to this sheet:
Volleyball_Testcases.xlsx

3.5.1.14 Baseball

Baseball is a bat-and-ball sport played between two teams of nine players each, where the objective is to score runs by hitting a pitched ball and running through a series of four bases arranged in a diamond shape. The game consists of nine innings, and the team with the most runs at the end of the game wins.



Baseball Markets

Betway Baseball offers the winning market of various tournaments as shown in the image below.

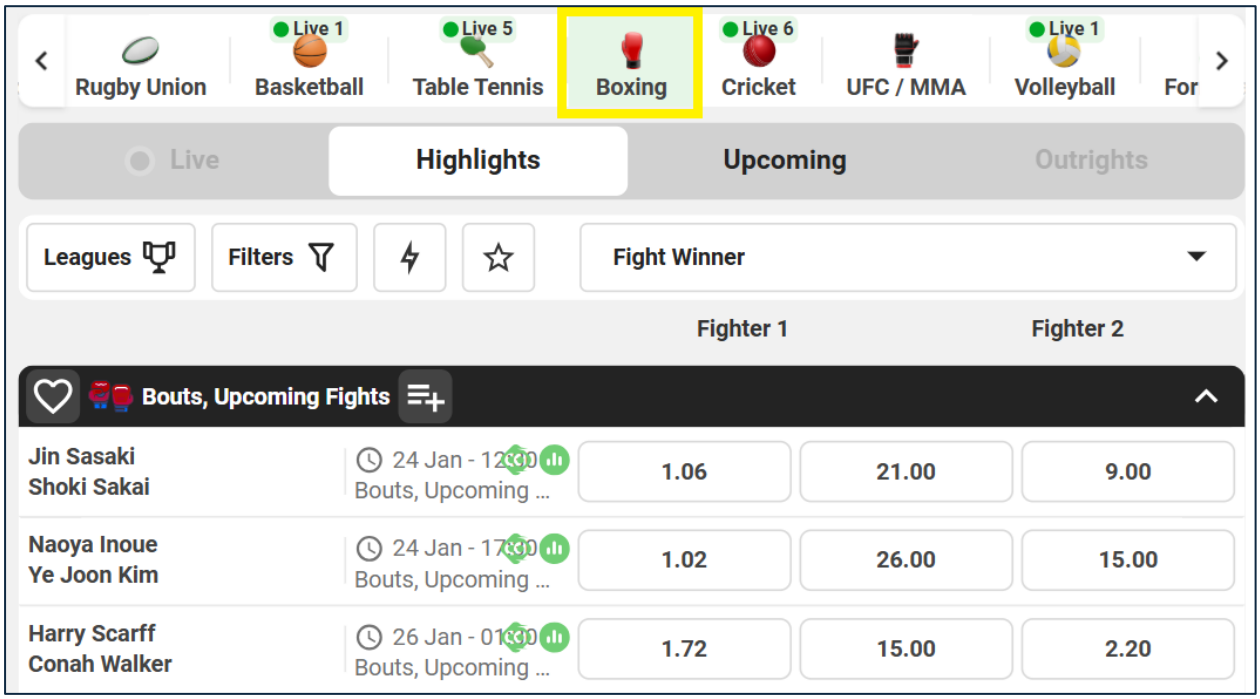
i. Match Winner: Betting on which team will win the game. Here the users can place a bet on New York Mets from the National League East Winner 2025 tournament or The Athletics from American League West Winner 2025 to win the event.

National League East Winner 2025
New York Mets	2.50	Atlanta Braves	2.50
Philadelphia Phillies	3.25	Washington Nationals	91.00
Miami Marlins	176.00

American League West Winner 2025
Houston Astros	2.00	Seattle Mariners	3.25
Texas Rangers	3.75	Los Angeles Angels	34.00
The Athletics	34.00

3.5.1.15 Boxing

Boxing is a combat sport where two fighters compete in a ring, using their fists to land punches on their opponent, aiming to score points or knock out their opponent. The fight is divided into rounds, typically lasting 3 minutes, and the winner is determined by either knockout (KO), technical knockout (TKO), or a decision from the judges after all rounds have been completed.



Boxing Markets

Some of the most popular boxing betting markets offered by Betway include:

i. Fight Winner: This is a bet on which fighter will win the match, either by knockout (KO), technical knockout (TKO), decision, or draw. For example, if Mea Motu is fighting Ellie Scotney, users can bet on Motu to win the fight or Scotney to win, depending on their prediction of the match outcome.

ii. Winning Method: This market allows users to bet on how the fight will be won. This can include options like knockout (KO), technical knockout (TKO), decision (points), or draw. For example, if users believe Mea Motu will win by knockout, they can place a bet on that specific method, and if the fight ends in a KO, their bet wins.

Winning Method
Ellie Scotney Decision Or Technical Decision	1.33	Ellie Scotney Ko, Tko Or Disqualification	6.50
Mea Motu Decision Or Technical Decision	7.00	Mea Motu Ko, Tko Or Disqualification	13.00
Draw Or Technical Draw	17.00

iii. Betting Round: This is a bet on the specific round in which the fight will end. For example, if users believe that Ellie Scotney will win in the 5th round, they can place a bet on that round. If the fight ends in the 5th round, whether by knockout or decision, their bet wins.

Betting Round
Ellie Scotney To Win On Points	1.33	Mea Motu To Win On Points	7.00
Draw	17.00	Ellie Scotney Round 5	29.00
Ellie Scotney Round 6	29.00	Ellie Scotney Round 7	29.00
Ellie Scotney Round 8	29.00	Ellie Scotney Round 9	29.00

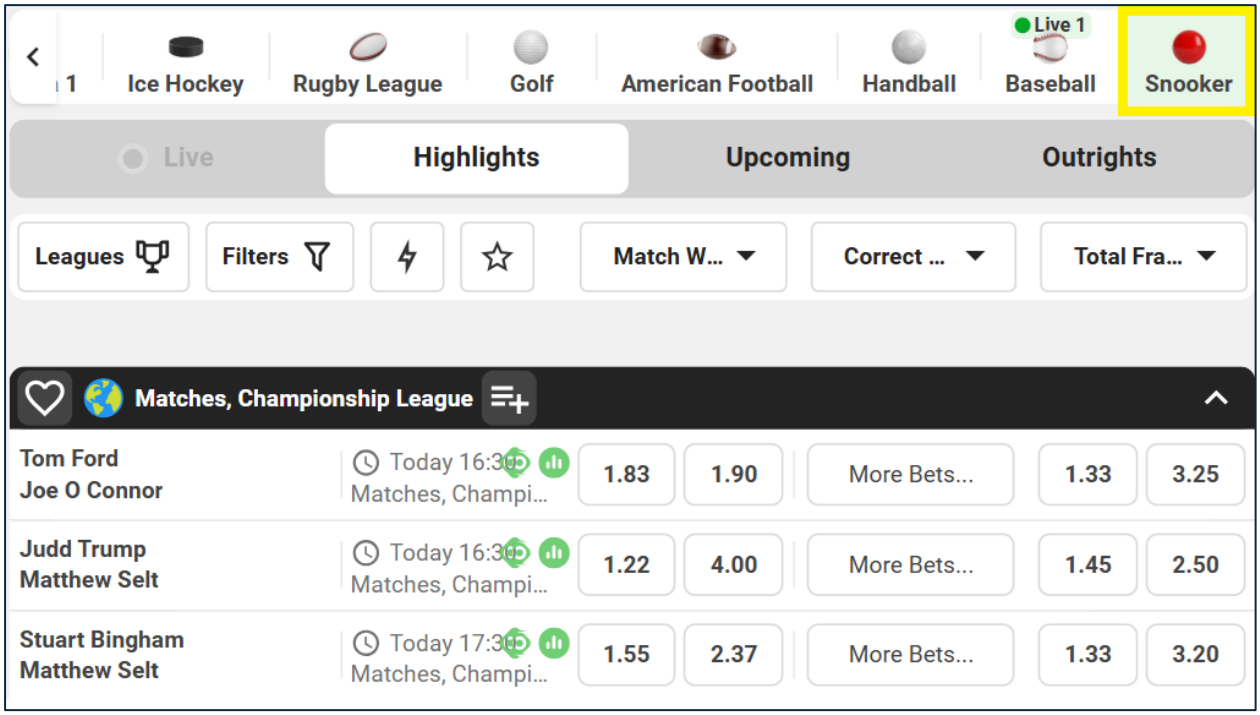
iv. Will the Fight Go the Distance: This market allows users to bet on whether the boxing match will last all scheduled rounds or end before the final round, either by knockout or technical knockout.

v. Total Rounds: This market allows users to bet on whether the total number of rounds in the boxing match will be over or under a specific line set by the bookmaker.

For test cases related to Boxing, please refer to this sheet:
Boxing_Testcases.xlsx

3.5.1.16 Snooker

Snooker is a cue sport played on a rectangular table covered with green cloth, where players use a cue stick to pot colored balls in a specific sequence to score points and win frames. A match comprises multiple frames, and the player who wins most frames wins the match.



Snooker Markets

Some of the most popular snooker betting markets include:

i. Match Winner: The Match Winner market in snooker allows users to bet on which player will win the match, regardless of the frame score. For example, in a match between Jak Jones and Matthew Selt, users can place a bet on either player to win the match.

ii. Correct Score: This market allows the user to bet on the exact frame score at the end of the match. For example, if two players are playing a best-of-11 match, users can bet on a specific score like 6-5 in favor of the first player. If the match ends with that exact score, their bet wins.

Correct Score
3:1	4.00	3:2	4.50
3:0	5.00	1:3	5.25
2:3	5.25	0:3	8.00

iii. Total frames: This market allows users to bet on the total number of frames played in a match. For example, in a best-of-11 match, the bookmaker might set the line at 4.5 frames. If users bet on "Over 4.5 frames," their bet wins if the match lasts 5 or 6 frames; if it ends in 4 or fewer frames, their bet loses.

Total Frames
Over (3.5)	1.33	Under (3.5)	3.20
Over (4.5)	2.60	Under (4.5)	1.44

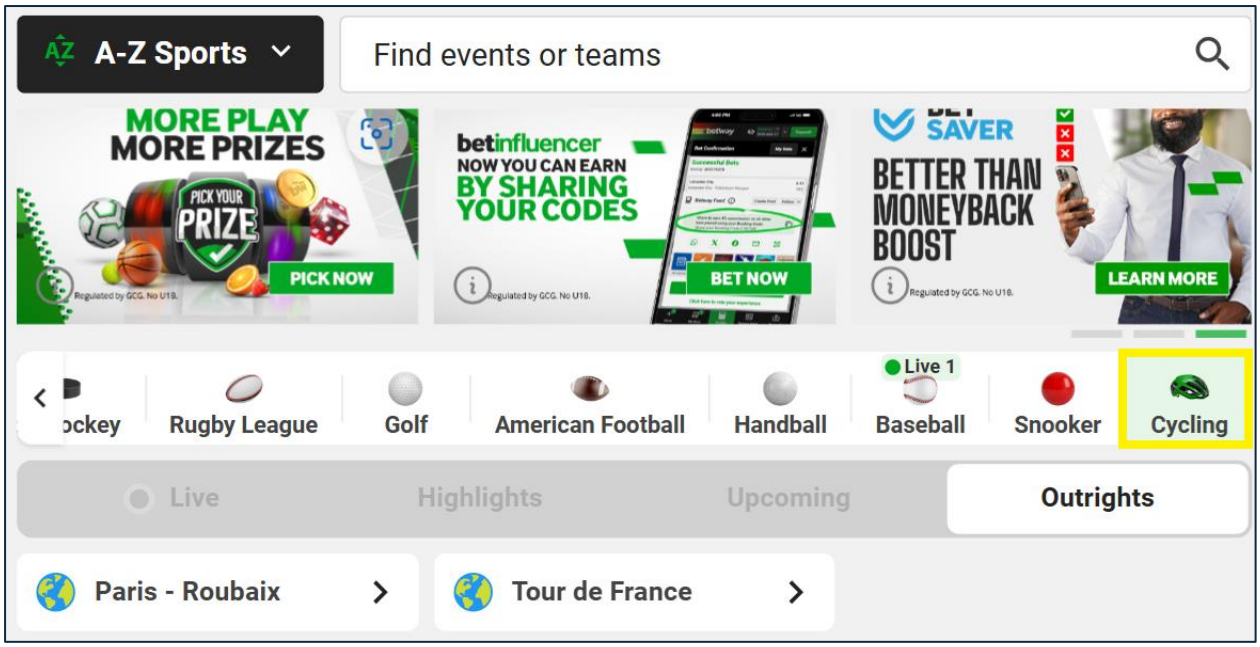
iv. Gambling Handicap: This market adjusts the score to level the playing field, allowing users to bet on a player or team to win with a virtual advantage or disadvantage.

3.5.1.17 Cycling

Cycling is a sport that involves riding bicycles in various competitive events, often in races on roads or tracks. It includes different formats like road races, time trials, and stage races, where riders race over a series of days or set distances.



Cycling Markets

Cycling betting markets include Outright Winner, where users predict the overall race winner, Stage Winner, where they bet on who will win a specific stage, and Matchups, where they bet on which of two riders will perform better.

i. Outright Winner: This is a bet on the cyclist that will win the race or event. For example, in a stage of the Tour de France, users could bet on Tadej Pogačar to win the stage or finish ahead of a specific competitor.

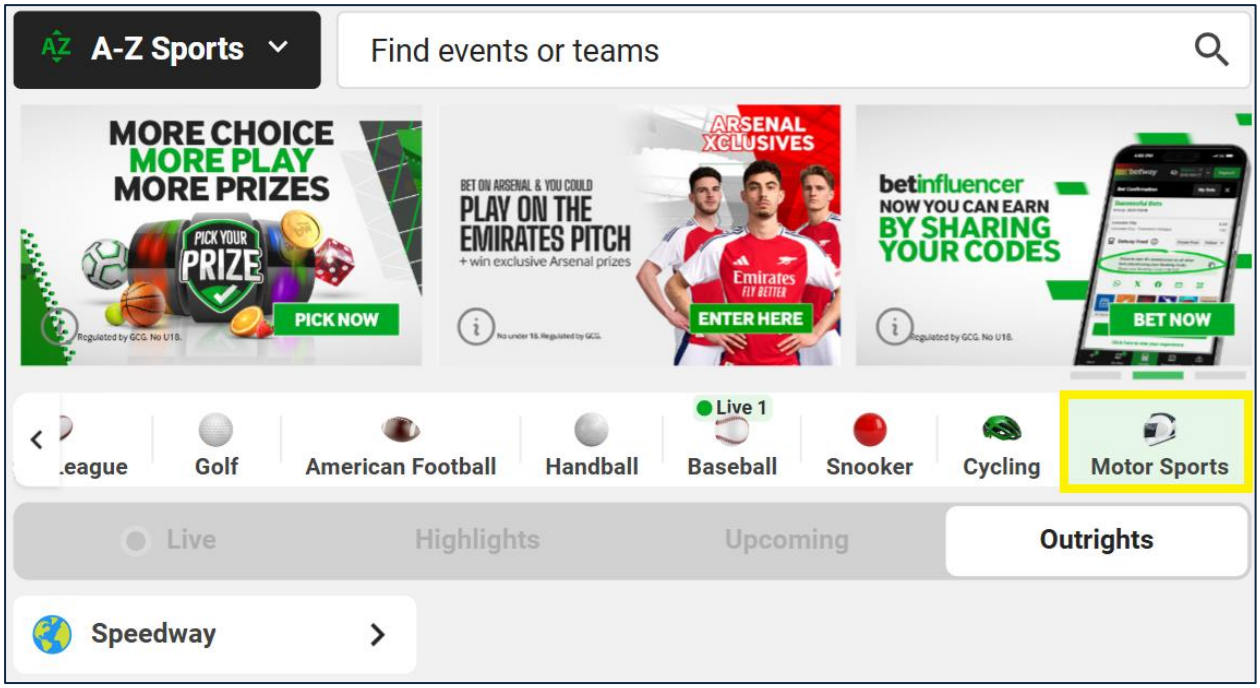
ii. Stage Winner: This market allows the user to bet on which rider will win a specific stage of a race.

iii. Matchups: This market lets the user bet on which of two riders will perform better in the race or stage.

For test cases related to Cycling, please refer to this sheet:
Cycling_Testcases.xlsx

3.5.1.18 Motorsport

Motorsports refer to competitive events involving motor vehicles, including Formula 1, MotoGP, and rally racing, where drivers compete on closed tracks or specific courses. The objective is to finish ahead of other competitors, often after completing multiple laps or stages.



Motorsport Markets

In Betway, popular motorsport betting markets include Race Winner, where users predict the winner of the race, Podium Finish, where they bet on a driver to finish in the top three, and Fastest Lap, where they bet on who will set the quickest lap.

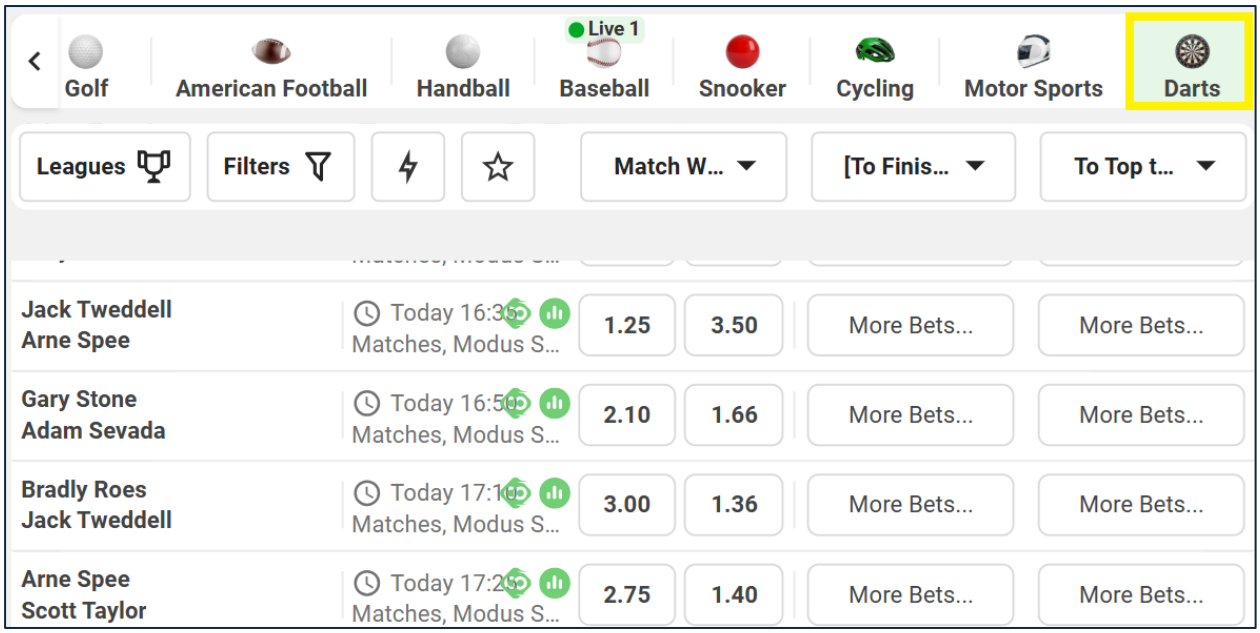
i. Winner: This is a market for a bet on the winner of the championship. For example, in the Speedway World Championship race, users could bet Dan Bewley or Jason Doyle to win.

ii. Podium Finish: This is a market of bets on a driver to place in the top three.

iii. Finish in the top three: This is the same as the podium finish market, but phrased differently.
iv. Fastest lap: This market predicts which driver will record the quickest lap during the race.

3.5.1.19 Darts

Darts is a precision sport where players throw small, pointed missiles (darts) at a circular target (dartboard) divided into scoring areas. Players compete to reach a specific score, typically 501, by hitting certain areas on the board.



Darts Markets

Some of the most popular darts betting markets offered by Betway include:

i. Most 108's – 3 Way: The Most 180s - 3 Way market in darts lets the user bet on which player will hit the most 180-point throws during a match, with three options: Player 1, Player 2, or a tie. For example, in a match between Scott Taylor and Gary Stone, users can place a bet on Taylor to hit more 180s, Stone to hit more 180s, or a tie if both players hit the same number of 180s.

ii. Correct Score (in legs): This market in darts allows the user to bet on the exact number of legs won by each player in a match. For example, if users bet on a correct score of 5-3 in a match between Scott Taylor and Gary Stone, their bet will win if Taylor wins 5 legs and Stone wins 3 legs.

iii. Handicap -180s: The Handicap – 180s market in darts allows the user to bet on a player to hit a certain number of 180-point throws, with a handicap applied to one player. For example, if Scott Taylor is given a handicap of +0.5 180s against Gary Stone, the user's bet wins if Taylor hits 0.5 more 180s than Stone, or if both players hit the same number of 180s, despite the handicap.

iv. Total Game Legs: This market in darts allows users to bet on the total number of legs played in a match.

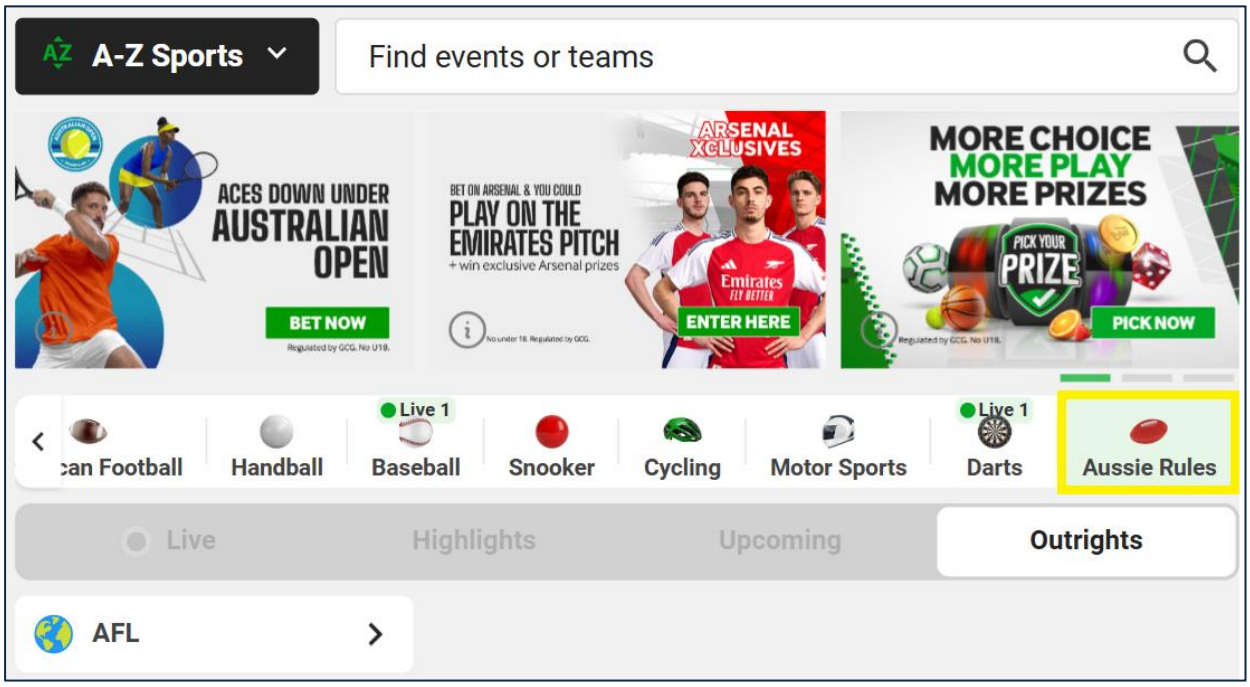
v. Total Matches 180s: This market lets the user bet on the total number of 180-point throws across all matches in a tournament or event.

vi. Legs Handicap: This market gives one player a virtual advantage or disadvantage in terms of legs won, and users bet on the outcome based on that handicap.

For test cases related to Dart, please refer to this sheet: Dart_Testcases.xlsx

3.5.1.20 Aussie Rules

Aussie Rules, or Australian Rules Football (AFL), is a unique sport played on an oval-shaped field with two teams of 18 players each. The objective is to score points by kicking the ball through the opponent's goalposts. The game involves a combination of running, kicking, marking (catching the ball), and handballing (passing the ball with hands). The team that scores the most points by the end of the game wins. The game is played in four quarters, each lasting around 20 minutes.



Aussie Rules Markets

Here are some of the Aussie Rules markets typically offered by Betway:

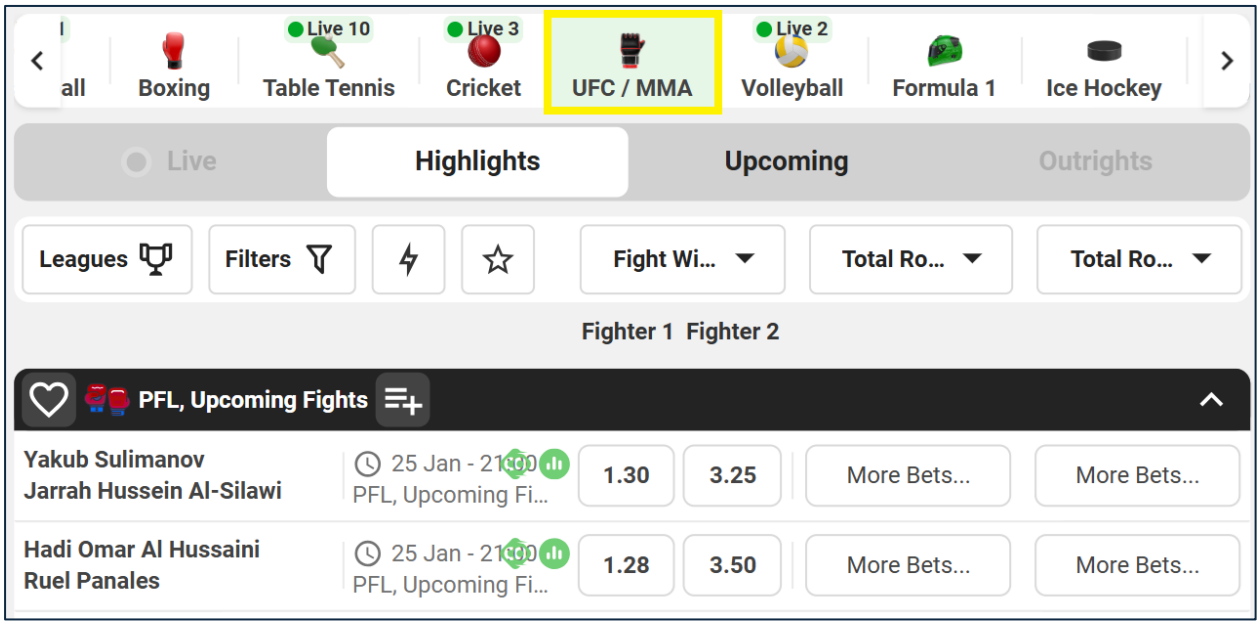
i. To reach the grand Finale: In AFL, the To Reach the Grand Finale market allows users to bet on a team making it to the final match of the season, which is the AFL Grand Final. For example, if users bet on Sydney Swans to reach the Grand Finale, they are predicting that they will make it to the final game of the season, regardless of whether they win or lose the match.

ii. Regular Season Winner: This market allows the user to bet on which team will finish at the top of the ladder after all the matches in the regular season. This bet is focused solely on the performance of teams throughout the entire season before the finals begin. For example, the user might bet on the GWS Giants to finish first in the regular season, meaning they will have the most points at the end of the season, ahead of all other teams.

iii. Top 4 Finish: This market allows users to bet on which teams will finish in the top four positions on the ladder at the end of the regular season. These top four teams automatically qualify for the finals. For example, it might bet on Richmond Tigers, Port Adelaide Power, Brisbane Lions, and Melbourne Demons to finish in the top four, meaning these teams will be among the highest-ranked at the end of the season and secure a spot in the AFL finals series.

3.5.1.21 UFC/MMA

UFC/MMA (Ultimate Fighting Championship/Mixed Martial Arts) is a combat sport where fighters use various techniques, including striking, grappling, and submissions, to defeat their opponent. The sport combines elements of boxing, wrestling, Brazilian jiu-jitsu, kickboxing, and other martial arts. UFC is the largest organization for MMA, hosting events with fighters competing in different weight classes.



UFC/MMA Markets

Here are some of the UFC and MMA betting options available on Betway:

i. Fight Winner: This is a bet on which fighter will win the match, regardless of how they win (KO, submission, decision). For example, if users are betting on the fight between Vinicius Oliveira and Said Nurmagomedov, they can place a bet on either fighter to win the match.

ii. Round Betting: In this market, users predict the specific round in which the fight will end. For example, they can bet that Said Nurmagomedov will win in the second round.

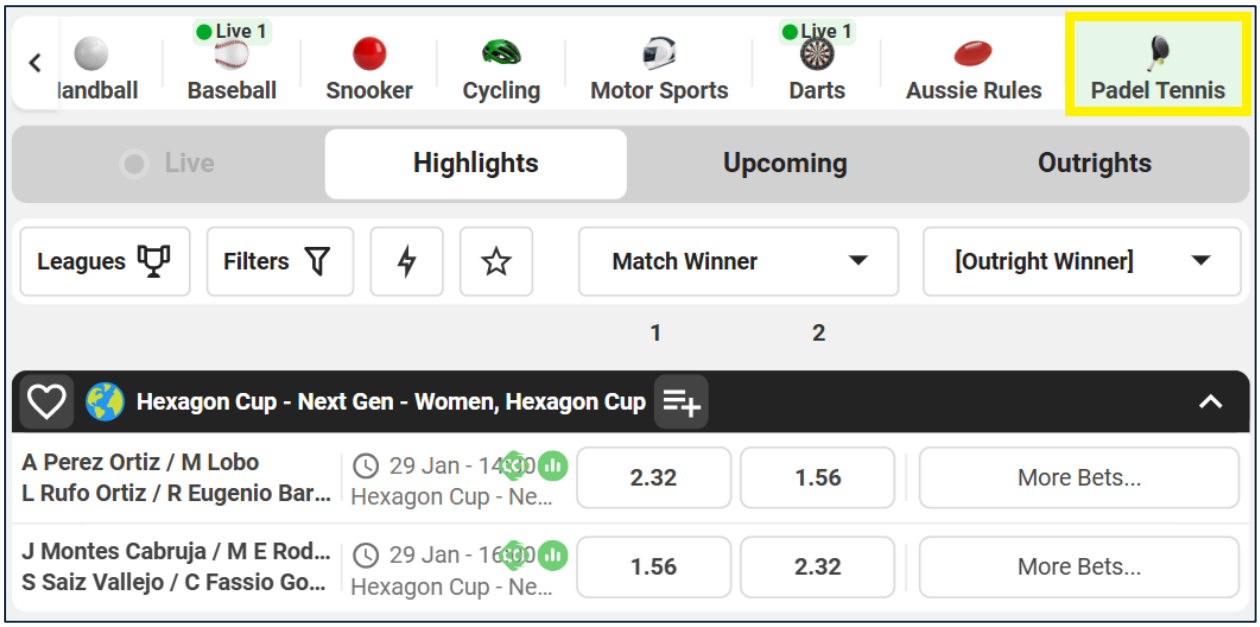
iii. Winning Method: In this market, users predict how the fight will be won, such as by KO/TKO, submission, or decision. For instance, users might bet that Vinicius Oliveira will win by submission during the fight.

iv. Method of Victory: Bet on how the fighter will win, such as by knockout, submission, or decision.
v. Total Rounds: Bet on the total number of rounds in the fight.

For test cases related to UFC, please refer to this sheet: UFC_Testcases.xlsx

3.5.1.22 Padel Tennis

Padel Tennis is a racket sport played in doubles, combining elements of tennis and squash. It is typically played on an enclosed court that is smaller than a traditional tennis court, with walls that players can use to bounce the ball off. The game is fast-paced, and players must hit the ball over the net, aiming to score points by making the ball land within the opponent's side of the court.



Padel Tennis Markets

Here are some of the Padel Tennis betting options available on Betway:

i. Match Winner: In this market, users can bet on which team (pair of players) will win the match. For example, if Ortiz and Lobo are playing against Rufo and Barrera, the user can place a bet on either Ortiz and Lobo or Rufo and Barrera to win the match.

ii. Set Betting: In this market, users predict the exact score of each set in the match.

iii. Total Games- Odd/Even: This is a bet on whether the total number of games played in the match will be an odd or even number.

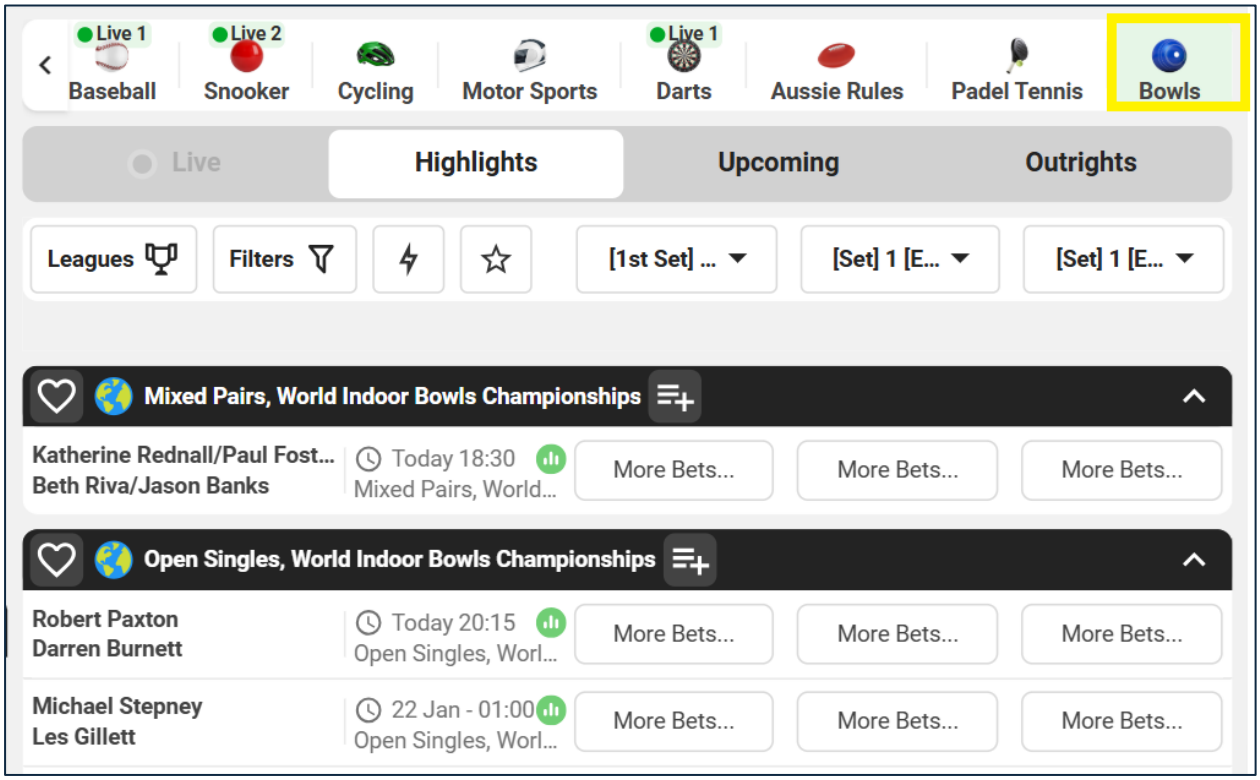
iv. Set 2 Winner: A bet on which pair will win the second set.

v. Perez/Lobo +1.5 Handicap: A bet on whether Perez and Lobo will either win or lose by no more than one game in the match.

vi. Total Games in Set 1 and Set 2: These are markets where users bet on the total number of games played in each set, predicting whether the total will be odd or even.

3.5.1.23 Bowls

Bowls is a precision sport where players aim to roll weighted balls, called bowls, as close as possible to a smaller target ball known as the "jack." The game is played on a flat or slightly sloped green, and players strategize their shots to outscore their opponents by getting more bowls closer to the jack.



Bowls Markets

Some of the Bowls markets offered by Betway are:

i. Match Winner: The Match Winner market in bowls involves betting on which player or team will win the match outright. For example, if Player A is competing against Player B, users can place a bet on either Player A or Player B to win, regardless of the score difference.

ii. [Set] 1 [End] 1 [Winner]: This market involves betting on which player or team will win the first end (a round where all bowls are delivered) of the first set. For example, in a match between Player A and Player B, users can bet on whether Player A or Player B will have the higher score at the conclusion of the first end in the first set.

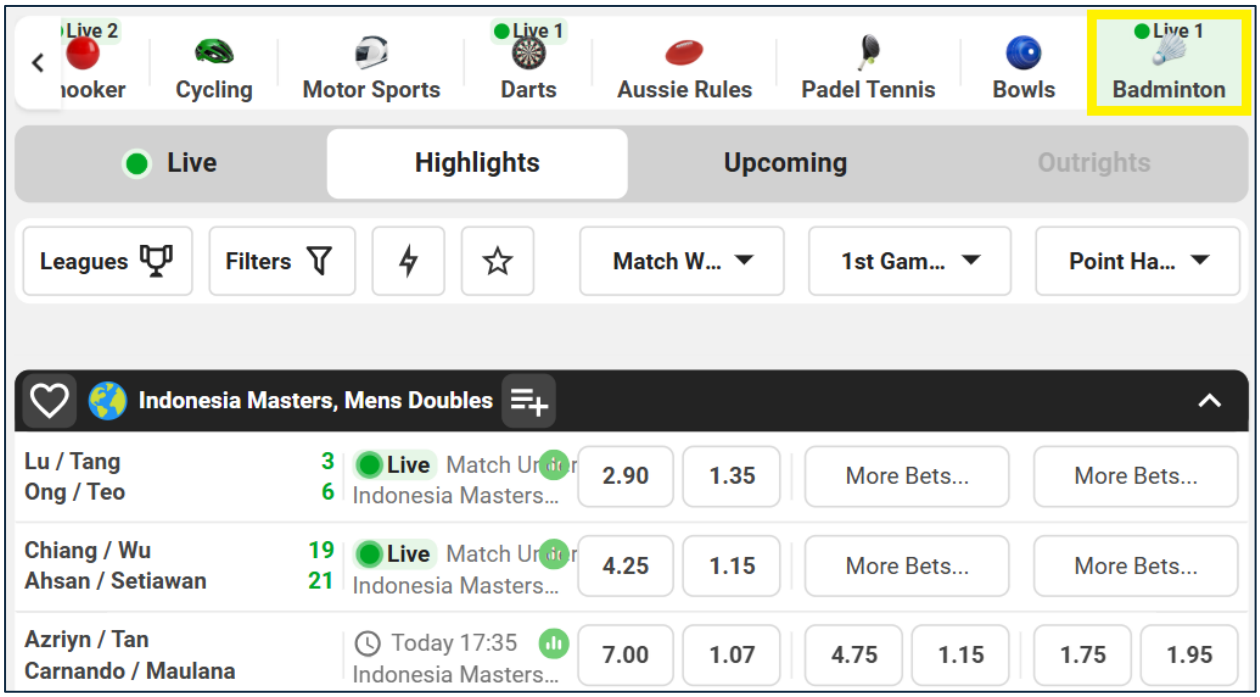
iii. [Set] 2 [End] 2 [Winner]: This market in bowls allows users to bet on which player or team will win the second end (round) of the second set. For instance, in a match between Player X and Player Y, users can bet on whether Player X or Player Y will score higher after the second end in the second set.

iv. [Winner]: This market lets users bet on the overall winner of the match.

v. [2nd Set - Winner]: This market focuses on who will win the second set.

3.5.1.24 Badminton

Badminton is a fast-paced racket sport played on a rectangular court divided by a net. Players or teams aim to score points by striking a shuttlecock over the net into the opponent's court, ensuring it lands within the boundaries, or forcing an opponent's error. Matches are played in a best-of-three format, with each game played by 21 points.



Badminton Markets

Some of the Badminton markets in Betway include:

i. 2nd Game – Winner: This market allows users to bet on which pair or player will win the second game of a match. For example, in a match between Maulana/Jamil and Kapila/Crasto, if they bet on Maulana/Jamil, they predict they will win the second game, regardless of the match's result.

ii. 2nd Game- Point Handicap: This market involves betting on which player or pair will win the second game after applying a set point handicap. For example, in a match between Maulana/Jamil and Kapila/Crasto, if Maulana/Jamil has a handicap of -2.5 points, they must win the second game by at least 3 points for the bet on them to succeed. Conversely, if Kapila/Crasto has a handicap of +2.5, they can either win or lose the game by up to 2 points for the bet on them to win.

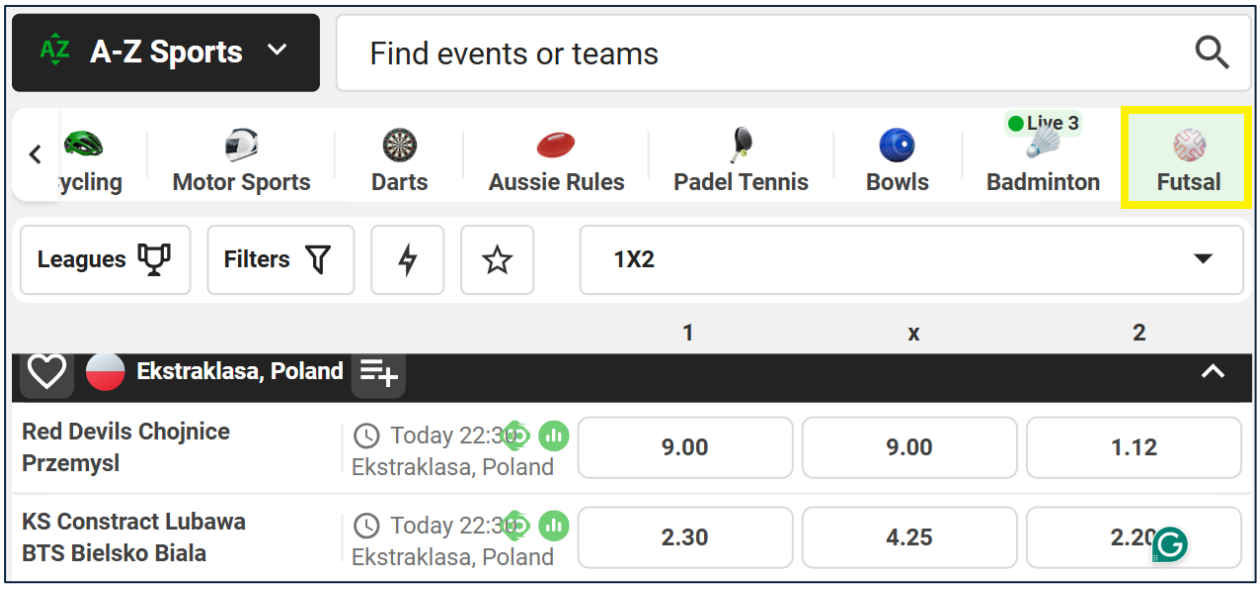
iii. Game 2 – Total Points: This market in badminton lets users bet on the total number of points scored by both players or pairs in the second game. For example, if Maulana/Jamil and Kapila/Crasto are playing, and the total is set at 38.5, users can bet on whether the combined points in Game 2 will be over 38.5 (e.g., 21-19, totaling 40) or under 38.5 (e.g., 21-16, totaling 37).

iv. Match Winner: This market allows the user to bet on who will win the match

v. Total Points: This market lets the user predict whether the combined points scored in the match will be over or under a set number.

3.5.1.25 Futsal

Futsal is a fast-paced, indoor variation of soccer played with five players on each team, including the goalkeeper. The game is played on a hard court with boundaries, and the ball is smaller and heavier than a traditional soccer ball, allowing for better control and faster play. Matches consist of two 20-minute halves, making it an intense, high-scoring sport.



Futsal Markets

The markets that Betway provides for Futsal are as follows:
i. 1x2: In this market, users can bet on whether KS Constract Lubawa will win (1), the match will end in a draw (X), or BTS Bielsko Biala will win (2) at the end of regular time.